RUBBER CO'S DOING WELL; NEW POLICIES PROVING WISE

List Of Dividend Paying Concerns Increasing

HAVE RESERVES

Old Method Of Straining For Profit In Discard

BY DAVID ARAKIE

The Shanghai-managed rubber estates are on the average doing very well. The list of dividend-payors is increasing. The Ayer-Tawah, whose agents are Messrs. Geddes and Co., has just declared an interim dividend of five per cent, equivalent to fifty taels cents per share, payable on June 15. The Shanghai-Malay Rubber Estates, Ltd., announce a distribution of eight percent per annum for the year ending June 30, 1922 on cumulative and participating preference share capital of the Company issued prior to December 31 last. The report of the Tanah Merah Estates Ltd. just issued shows a better state of affairs compared with last year. The profit for the year ended March 31 last amounts to Tls. 27,005.77 which, added to the amount of Tls. 9,745.11 brought forward from the previous year, makes a total of Tls. 36,750.88 at the credit of profit and loss account.

It is pleasing to notice that Shanghai rubber companies are putting a portion of their profits into improvements, and there is not a single property that is going backward. Generally speaking, a more conservative system of tapping is being adopted. Instead of tapping the rubber trees to death, the companies are giving them a rest so as to have bark at all times. This applies to every concern, in the industry at the present moment except perhaps the native holders who tap to death for various margins of profit, and whose properties will, in the course of time, become derelict and have to be cut out.

RUINOUS POLICY

Rubber companies were primarily formed to distribute profits and in former years it was done right up to the hilt. It is within recollection of many investors that estates earning a dollar had paid a hundred cents in dividends. The fallacy of this policy was amply proved by the trying times through which many of the Shanghai-owned plantations went through in the slump period.

The days of paying out to the last cent will, it is hoped, never recur, for the Directors and Managers have learned their bitter lesson. The general tendency now is not to pay out as much as possible in dividends, but to create a big carry-over forward or create a special reserve. It is recognised that such a reserve should not exist as a book entry, but in good hard cash. With the increasing adoption of this method the rubber industry as far as the Shanghai-owned companies are concerned, should be insured against a recurrence of the unhappy experiences of the past.

All round, the companies are very comfortable at rubber at 50 Straits cents per pound, or, roughly, 1s. 3d. per pound. At this figure they are not making large fortunes but are doing very nicely, and are also profiting by their lessons of adversity. Most of these companies should be in a position to declare reasonable dividends on the current financial year.

The current year will, in most cases, give shareholders from 40 to 60 percent of a normal dividend. The reason why with a 60 percent crop the lower figure is mentioned is because the curtailment of output necessarily enhances the cost per pound. To understand this better, it has to be remembered that standing charges are the same whether the output is 100 percent or 60 percent.

The exports of rubber from Malaya have been very greatly in excess of what was anticipated when restriction came into force. For instance the first six months of the restriction period should have seen exports from there reach 81,000 tons plus any stocks which may have been held in Penang, Sweetenham and Singapore. The actual export was 101,821 tons.

Co-Operation Of Pacific Nations, Ford's Theme At Pan-Pacific Tiffin

Consul-General Funatsu Pleads For Better Understanding Between China And Japan; S.U. Zau Speaks On Internationalism

Closer co-operation between the nations bordering the Pacific was the theme of all the speakers at the tiffin held yesterday at the Old Carlton in honor of Mr. Alexander Hume Ford, director and founder of the Pan-Pacific movement. Mr. Chung Meng-yew presided and the other speakers were Consul-General Funatsu of Japan and Mr. S. U. Zau, China's delegate to the Pan-Pacific Commercial Conference last year.

While both Mr. Ford and Mr. Zau gave interesting addresses, the outstanding feature of the program was the eloquent plea made by Consul-General Funatsu for better understanding between his people and the Chinese. Mr. Funatsu's speech is especially noteworthy in view of the strong feeling now existing between the two peoples as a result of the recent boycott resulting from the refusal by Tokio to retore Port Arthur and Dalny, as well as the Changsha incident.

The text of Mr. Zau's speech was as follows:

ZAU'S ADDRESS

"For many centuries past China had been known by her sons and daughters as the only civilised nation in this world. The doctrine of Confucius, Mencius and other philosophers have been studied, followed and respected not only by her own children but also by many scholars outside the country. Some of her arts and sciences are the basis of modern inventions.

"But why she has not made any progress as other nations have done? What makes her to be excluded from the 'big five' at the Washington conference? The word 'Isolated' is the answer to these questions. China did not realise her own position until eighty years ago. She knew not where she stood, her people could go on with her own way of living which had been hereditary for several thousands of years. When her door opened she had a chance to have a glance at the outside world. The chief hinderance to all these is the lack of intercourse. The growth of the trade depends greatly upon it. It is the friendly intercourse that sows the seeds, fertilises the plants and bears the fruits of the commerce. Intercourse is the principle to bring together a warmer friendship, closer relations and to discard the creeds, colors and cultures.

"Let me give you a little illustration. A mother was once asked by his boy why their supply of foodstuff had been made all along by a foreign store located further away from their house instead of getting them from the one close by their home. 'It's simply because I know it so well' replied the mother. 'I wish to get some stuff from the next one hereafter,' the boy said. 'You may try if you wish,' said the mother. So he did on the following day but the store next to his house could not give him any satisfactory service. He decided again to go to the one which had been patronised by his mother and from it he got every satisfaction. He hurried back and told his mother that he was convinced with what she spoke to him.

"Trade in such minor nature needs intercourse, how much more it needs in building a concrete form of economical and commercial contact and relationship? So important as it is, all ways and means should be devised for the furtherance of cultivating a brotherhood. The Pan-Pacific Union with Mr. Ford as the conductor of the machine is the organ to attain such object.

"At the Commercial conference held last year in Honolulu expressions made by the delegates to it were so sincere, encouraging and inspiring. Let us all strive for this end by having a true cause of peace and brotherhood through this friendly spirit and intercourse. Seek for the spirit of mutual forbearance and forgiveness. Forgiveness is the teaching and doctrine of our Savior Christ and the great sage Confucius. 'Do not unto others what you would not have others do unto you' of Confucius and 'whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them' from the Bible are the Precepts to reach this goal!"

FUNATSU SPEAKS

Consul-General Funatsu was then introduced and said:

"I do not propose to inflict a lengthy speech on this gathering, but I would like to express my sincere appreciation of the excellent work that is being accomplished by the Pan-Pacific Association. The ideals of the association are worthy of the support of all nations, especially those countries whose shores are washed by the great Pacific and whose interests, therefore, are closely interlocked.

"The First Pan-Pacific Commercial Conference which was convened last year at Honolulu resulted in bringing together representatives of all Pacific countries, thus fostering a closer relationship and assisting towards a better understanding of the problems of each country. Such meetings are eminently desirable and might be held more frequently to the advantage of all Pacific nations. Peace and prosperity and the facilitation of better commercial and political relations can

New Base May Get World's Largest Floating Dock

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 11.—The world's largest floating dock, surrendered by Germany under the Peace Treaty, after being rendered partially useless, is being prepared at Chatham for special naval work. It is reliably believed to be for the giant dock of the new naval base at Singapore.

Eight hundred men are restoring the damage. The dock will be capable of receiving the largest battleship afloat and also the two new giants, H. M. S. Nelson and H. M. S. Rodney.

Soviet Agent In Finland Sent Home

(Reuter's Service)

Helsingfors, June 11.—The Finnish Government has handed his passport to the Soviet Military Attache, Colonel Bobristchev, who is reputed to be one of the cleverest and most successful Soviet agents. He was formerly a Colonel in the Russian Imperial Army.

It is alleged that Colonel Bobristchev took advantage of his diplomatic immunity in drafting complete military plans for a Communist rising in Finland.

EXPERT ASKS EDUCATION OF EMPLOYES IN COTTON MILLS

Mr. J. Kerfoot, Of Jardine's, Discusses Industry

TELLS OF NEEDS

Local Plants Now Working At Disadvantage

The present condition and the future prospects of the cotton industry in China, with particular reference to Shanghai, formed the theme of an interesting and instructive address by Mr. James Kerfoot, of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Company, at a dinner given last night at the Union Club to Chinese cotton millowners by Mr. Pan Ching-poo, compradore of the company. About twenty leading merchants in the cotton industry were present and speeches were also made by Mr. C. C. Nieh and Mr. Koo Tse-pan.

A plea for the education of the millworkers and the raising of their status formed one of the interesting points in Mr. Kerfoot's address, which was as follows:

"Mr. Pan Ching-poo and Gentlemen: It is a great pleasure to meet again some of my old friends among the cotton millowners of China.

THREE ESSENTIALS

"You honored me in a similar manner when I retired from the management of the Ewo Cotton Mills Department some four years ago, and on that occasion I said that the future prosperity of the cotton industry depended on three essentials, namely, an intelligent and efficient labor force; a cheap and adequate supply of good cotton, and cheap coal.

"Today you are no nearer any one of these three, in fact you have gone backwards. The operatives are worse in quality, cotton is scarce, poor in quality, and expensive. Coal is inferior and 40 percent higher in price. I am very sorry that when the mills were making the abnormal profits in 1919, 1920 and 1921, reserve funds were not created towards an educational scheme for the operatives, and technical education for the mill staffs. I have no hesitation in saying, and you will agree with me, that the operatives employed in the cotton mills in China, are the lowest in intelligence as compared with those employed in other industries, where skilled labor is required for working expensive raw material, and attending to valuable machinery. This I attribute to the long hours, and working during the night, especially as regards the girls and women.

PLEA FOR EDUCATION

"Nothing has been done to raise the status of labor. The Government seems to be indifferent, but in the employer's own interests, especially with the prospects of keener competition, it will be a good investment, to start a system of education in connection with every mill, on somewhat similar lines to those we had in our Lancashire mills, children working half-day and, attending school the other half, say between the ages of 10 to 14, and continuation classes after that age. There should be a sufficient number of returned students to take the positions of teachers. If the hours of labor are reduced, as proposed under the new labor laws, and the age limits raised, something may be done in this direction.

"It was a mistake on the part of the millowners to have given up the scheme which had been proposed and approved in 1917, for a technical school for the mills, the primary schools for same having been started, and as suggested at that time, it was to be financed prorata to the spindles of each concern, and possibly with some assistance from the Municipal Council. Personally I believe that better results will be obtained if the main direction of the technical school for the cotton mills comes from those most interested, namely, the millowners, with members of the Municipal Council, and a number from the British and Chinese Chambers of Commerce as Governors, I was pleased to find during my tour through the cotton mill districts, that more European experts

Victim And Accused Testify In Attempted Murder Case

Testimony by both complainant and accused was taken yesterday in the British Police Court, before Mr. Cook, sitting as magistrate, in the case wherein [illegible] 63 years old [illegible] charged with the attempted murder of Bakher Singh, Indian money-lender found brutally hacked and almost dead in a lonely spot along Ward Road on the morning of May 5.

The Indian, who has lost a hand by reason of the attack and is evidently still in a bad state, declared positively that the defendant was present during the assault after having led him from his home. The defendant declared as flatly that she was not and called other evidence in endeavoring to establish an alibi.

The case is being prosecuted by Mr. Eardley Maitland and Mr. C. M. Reece appeared for the accused.

The victim of the attack, who was in a very weak state and heavily bandaged, called as the first witness, said he was a money-lender, living at 631 Miller Road.

By Mr. Maitland: You know the accused? Yes.

What is her name? Mrs. Rowarth.

You remember the evening of May 4? Yes.

Anybody call to see you? Yes. The accused and an amah spoke to me about a lady named Davis who wanted to borrow money. They said that one Chinaman to whom I had given money had changed his house, and this was occupied by Mrs. Davis.

What did they want? They said Mrs. Davis had sent the amah to bring me at once to that Chinaman's house. I was to come quickly as she was waiting for me at the house of the Chinese.

This amah and the accused came to see you together? Yes.

Who is Mrs. Davis? I think she is a daughter or a niece.

Have you had business with her? Yes, I have [illegible] money to Mrs. [illegible] accused and Cu[illegible]

GAVE $100 LOAN

You have given them money on a loan? A loan of $100 to the accused, with Mrs. Davis as security. I have a promissory note in my pocket.

Have any of these persons paid you back any money? Mrs. Davis has paid back $27.

Out of how much? I don't remember.

What time was it when these two came to your house? 7.30 p.m.

You told us there was a woman waiting for you in the house? Yes.

Where was the house? The man has changed the house.

Where was the woman waiting?

At this stage a chair was produced and the witness allowed to sit.

Mr. Maitland: Did they tell you the house in which she was waiting? Yes. What was the address? They did not tell me the address of the house.

They had only told me that the house was very near.

How were you to get there? We had to get in a ricsha.

Who "we"? Myself and these two women.

They were to take you there? Yes. I agreed to go with them.

Where did you go? Seymour Road. When we arrived there I asked them where they were taking me. They said that the house was very near. At the time we were near the jail. I asked them again where the house was and they pointed out one house very near. I told them I wanted to go back in the ricsha.

Why did you want to go back? They were taking me into the fields and Chinese villages and it seemed to me dangerous.

Mr. Cook: Were they taking you through the fields? They were taking me by the road, and because of that I wanted to go back as there were no policemen there.

Mr. Maitland: What did you do then? They said to me:

"You are a man why should you be frightened? We are with you. The house is only 100 yards away from the place." Then I went with them for about 200 yards.

How did you go then? At the time we were walking. We left the ricshas near the jail.

UPBRAIDED AMAH

What happened after you had gone 200 yards? Then I spoke to them. I said, "You said it was only 100 yards away and we have gone 200 yards." I became angry and used filthy language to the Chinese amah.

What did you do after you got angry? The amah spoke to me and said, "Just now it is only 50

The boxes for the benefit entertainment to be given at the Isis Theater the evening of June 20 in aid of American civilian relief will be auctioned off at the American Club at 6:30 p.m. next Thursday. The committee in charge emphasises the desirability of a large attendance in view of the worthiness of the cause and some spirited bidding is looked for.

An attractive program has been arranged and tickets are now on sale at $1 and $1.50 at the American banks, the Admiral Line and Pacific Mail offices, the Columbia Country and American Clubs and the Shanghai Mercantile Printing Company's office, or may be secured from members of the committee.

CAPTIVES TO BE FREE AT NOON TODAY, SAYS ENVOY FROM BANDITS

Messenger, Arriving In Tsaochuang From Paotzuku Reports Decision To Release Prisoners Has Been Reached; Peking Also Hears, Via Lincheng, That Enrollment Has Been Completed And That Liberation Of Prisoners Is Expected Hourly

By Lloyd ("Larry") Lehrbas
(China Press Staff Correspondent)

Tsaochuang, June 11.—A messenger returned from the bandit camp tonight with the report that the captives would be released at noon Tuesday.

(Reuters Pacific Service)

Peking, June 11.—A telegram from Lincheng reports that the process of enrolment of the bandits into the national army is practically concluded but the bandits wish for three days' extension in which to complete their own affairs including the liberation of the captives which is expected to take place today or tomorrow.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 11.—The reported capture of one Japanese by bandits at Changli, near Peitaiho, is confirmed. The capture occurred on the night of June 8. The Japanese was carried off to the mountains, 70 li North of Changli.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsaochuang, June 10.—Two bandit representatives left for Tsaochuang yesterday and returned this morning with General Chen. It is stated that the negotiations should be completed today and that General Chen believes that the captives will be released tomorrow.

All the Chinese officials and Mr. Anderson have been invited to the bandit camp tomorrow. It is believed that the usual Chinese celebration is to be held at the completion of the negotiations.

It is stated that Mr. Anderson will be asked to act as guarantor for the agreement and that the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and the Shantung gentry delegates will arrange for the release of the Chinese prisoners.

LI IS DEMANDING SHOWDOWN FROM TSAO KUN AND WU

Accuses Them Of Trying To Force Him Out By Indirection

Peking, June 10.—The Cabinet crisis continues. In an interview with President Li Yuan-hung this afternoon, Dr. W. W. Yen persistently declined the offer of the Premiership.

Dr. Wellington Koo, who was also regarded as a probable successor to Premier Chang Shou-tseng, has refused to be made a scapegoat.

Dr. C. T. Wang, however, is very enthusiastic. Since the Cabinet Ministers resigned en bloc, Dr. Wang has been busy entertaining the legislators and the political schemers affiliated with the Chihli Oligarchy.

President Li has instructed General Tsiang Yen-heng, Vice-Chairman of the General Staff, to request General Tsao Kun and General Wu Pei-fu to appoint a Cabinet and to assure the Chihli potentates that henceforth he will not interfere with the new administration.

As regards the question of his tenure of office, President Li declares that he has no desire to retain the Presidency, if Parliament decides that his term has expired. But, he states, so long as the question is deliberately shelved by the legislators, he must remain in office.

A report emanating from President Li's entourage states that he is determined to fight the electoral campaign, conducted by General Tsao Kun's adherents, to the end.

General Wu Pei-fu apparently has stood aloof in the present struggle between President Li and the Cabinet. Official circles declare that General Wu is leaning towards President Li whose opposition to the Presidential election being held before the completion of a permanent constitution is endorsed by him.

It is said that President Li's objection to the proposed dismissal of Tao Li, Director of the Chungwenmen Octroi Tax Bureau, and one of General Wu's proteges, was raised with a view to enlisting the Loyang potentate's support in the present muddle.

Chinese Officials Blame Japanese

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, June 7.—The Waichiaopu has received the following report by the local authorities concerning the Changsha incident:

On account of the agitation for the restoration of Port Arthur and Dairen the boycott movement against the Japanese has been growing in intensity in Changsha. On June 1 about 8 a.m. the S.S. Buryo Maru of the Nisshin Co. anchored in the harbor of Changsha. Groups of citizens and students were assembled on the river side. Speeches were made. Local police were watching them closely lest some accident might occur.

Unexpectedly the Japanese gunboat Fushimi sent some bluejackets ashore in order to make demonstration against the public. The Commissioner of Foreign Affairs thereupon notified the Japanese Consul that they would take the responsibility for the protection of Japanese residents and requested the withdrawal of the Japanese bluejackets.

At the same time the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs caused more policemen to be sent to the spot, while several members of the staff were also despatched to the scene to investigate and report.

An official of the Bureau called on the Japanese Consul and urged upon him the necessity for withdrawing the bluejackets. The people were gradually dispersed by the policemen and the Japanese bluejackets withdrew.

Up to this time things had gone all right, and order would have been restored had not the Fushimi a little later despatched an armed party ashore. As it was the groups still lingering in the vicinity were taken by surprise. The bluejackets were ordered by their commander to fire on the Chinese. Two were killed and many others were seriously wounded. The police being anxious to avoid a serious clash did not oppose the Japanese by force. The Japanese were thus able to complete the outrage and returned to the Fushimi in safety.

Upon hearing the report the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs telephoned the Japanese Consul and hastened to the spot to investigate. Investigation showed that the victims were mostly merchants.

The place presented a scene of indescribable horror.

The fact that the killed and wounded were outside the grounds of the Japanese Steamship Company showed that the Japanese marines had rushed from the pier to attack the Chinese.

That the Japanese marines were acting under the order of their commander proved that the act was committed in utter disregard of the territorial sovereignty of China and with the intention of provoking trouble.

PIERRE LOTI, FAMOUS FRENCH NOVELIST, DIES

(Reuter's Service)

Hendaye, (Basses-Pyrenees), June 10.—The death is announced of Pierre Loti (Captain Louis Marie Julien Viaud), the famous novelist.

Note.—Pierre Loti, descendant of an old Huguenot family, was born in 1850 at Rochefort, close to the famous fortress of La Rochelle, the Calvinist "Republic" of the latter part of the 16th Century.

Spending his childhood in the environment of a naval port, Loti began his career in the Navy, which he entered in 1867. His vocation took him into Eastern waters, and he took part in the Tonkin campaign under Admiral Courbet. He was present at the capture of Hue in 1883, and his criticism of the conduct of the French soldiers who took part in the operations, which he published in the Figaro, brought him into disfavor with his superior officers. It was a year before his outspokenness was forgotten.

Meanwhile Pierre Loti was finding his true expression in his pen. His first work, which appeared in 1879, was a series of sketches of life on the Bosphorus. In this already he showed his keen reaction to the charm of his surroundings, which he knew how to express with tenderness and simplicity. His impressions of the peoples he visited are, perhaps, of little ethnographical value.

Loti saw the East, which had entirely captured his imagination, with the eyes of a stranger, it is true, but a stranger with a keen sympathy with nature. His principal novels were Le Mariage de Loti, Mon Frere Yves, Pecheur d'Islande, Madame Chrysantheme, and Ramuntcho.

Pierre Loti was made a Commander of the Legion of Honor in 1910 and received the Grand-Cross in 1921. He was elected to the Academy in 1891.

elected a successor. He pointed out that the Chihli Party who last year on bended knees implored him to take over the administration were now doing their utmost to drive him out.

President Li stated that Dr. Wellington Koo, Dr. W. W. Yen and others were refusing to take up the formation of a ministry owing to military duress and asserted that the aim of the militarists was to block the formation of a Cabinet.

Peking, June 8.—The President sent out a second circular telegram yesterday in which he said that in view of the great importance of getting the drafting of the constitution finished and in view too of the lack of pay of the Chinese diplomatic and consular officials abroad he felt it necessary to obtain funds from the Shuiwuchu for these purposes.

With regard to the dispute over the directorship of the Peking Gazette the telegram says that the President does not object to Mr. Tao-li being given a new post but he should not be dismissed without reason.

be still further promoted, through the medium of this association.

"I believe I am voicing the desire of all Chinese and Japanese when I say that they wish to attain all that this Association stands for. There exist at present, unfortunately, misunderstandings between China and Japan, which it is earnestly desired may soon be removed. Many mendacious reports are circulated which give rise to such misunderstandings, but I feel sure that, with the assistance of the Pan-Pacific Association, the time is not far distant when all Pacific nations will enjoy the full confidence of one another and that better feeling between the two great nations of the East, China and Japan, will speedily be restored. This is essential for all nations, whose interests are bound to be adversely affected by any misunderstanding existing between China and Japan.

"In closing these few remarks, I would like to give expression to great praise for the valuable efforts of Mr. Hume Ford who, I understand, is now very actively engaged in organising the work of the Pan-Pacific Movement in Japan and China, the South Seas and the Philippines. It is indeed a great work and a powerful force for the promotion of goodwill—a work to which all should give their utmost support."

Mr. Ford then spoke as follows:

MR. FORD'S ADDRESS

Mr. Lord spore as follows:

As President Harding to Honorary head of the Pan-Pacific Union in America so the President of China is Honorary head in this Republic. I called on President Li with Dr. C. T. Wang and had a most interesting talk on Pan-Pacific matters. The splendor of the Pan-Pacific movement lies in the fact that it has nothing to do with politics and next month. I can talk just as freely with Sun Yat-sen or any other Chinese interested in plans to bring the leaders in different lines of thoughts and action here into better understanding and relationship with the peoples of other Pacific lands.

In Peking the matter of organising a National Pan Pacific Association of China was discussed and a committee composed of representatives of each Pacific race appointed to consider ways and means, W. W. Yen being Chairman. Kindred committees will be appointed here and in Canton. In time it is hoped that every province of China will have its committee of the Pan-Pacific Association of China and each large city its Pan-Pacific Club.

The Association affiliated with the Union for bringing about better international understanding and co-operation throughout the Pacific Area, and the Clubs will co-operate with the Association in binding China together in one working unit for the greater material advancement of China and the Chinese.

During the coming year I shall work with Mr. George Fitch, Secretary of the Shanghai Association, and the Chinese leaders on a plan for organising the Pan-Pacific Association throughout China. He will visit Hawaii and America, studying the working plans of the Pan-Pacific Union and next year afer the Pan-Pacific Conservation Conferece, I hope to accompany him back to China and put in several months of work organising here and getting weekly luncheon Pan-Pacific Clubs going in Peking and Shanghai. At least, so that our distinguished men arriving in China from Pacific lands will have a medium here as in other countries of getting their messages to the people and personally meeting their leaders.

It may be stated that the Pan-Pacific Union is an organisation that calls conferences of the leaders from Pacific lands in different lines of thought and action, and organises them into working forces for the advancement of Pacific interests. It is international, and is governed by a board of trustess made up of men of different Pacific nationalities. The heads of all Pacific governments are honorary presidents.

The Pan-Pacific Association of China is the Chinese branch of the organisation. The Shanghai Pan-Pacific Club will be a branch of the Pan-Pacific Association of China.

It is proposed that the Pan-Pacific Clubs will be managed by Chinese and inter-racial committees, without the predominance of any one Pacific foreign racial group. Many of the racial groups in China other than the Chinese would gladly take the lead in making the real aims of China better known to their countrymen at home, and in bringing about a better knowledge of and a better understanding between China and the peoples of all races in the Pacific area.

It is proposed at the weekly luncheons to entertain distinguished visitors from Pacific lands, and at time others from abroad who are visiting the Pacific, or who have been of service to Pacific interests.

The luncheon meetings are thoroughly informal, simple and inexpensive. The speeches and the eating begin promptly at 12:30 on the day selected and as promptly at 1:30 the gavel falls and the meeting is adjourned. There may be time for talks from men of several Pacific races during the hour, but at the close of the hour, all may return to their business.

It is believed in Shanghai as in many of the larger cities in Pacific lands that these weekly gatherings would ripen many casual inter-racial acquaintanceships into strong personal friendships; that foreign residents in China would begin to understand the Chinese better, and the Chinese will be even more strongly initiated into the foreign point of view, and way of doing things.

A strong driving committee of the most energetic men of the Pacific races represented in Shanghai and one in Peking are being organised to make a success of the weekly luncheons, and to introduce the best features that have made these successful in other lands. The chief of these features is the fixing in the mind that on one special day each week that all are to gather together for friendly intercourse.

Briefly the outline of the objects of the Pan-Pacific Clubs already established in other cities are:

1.—To bring about by weekly meetings around the luncheon table better inter-racial friendly understanding and co-operation.

2.—To listen to leading thinkers from the many lands of the Pacific.

3.—To entertain distinguished visitors.

4.—To make known to the world the truth about your country.

5.—To help make your city better because you live in it.

6.—To make your commercial and other advantages better known to the world.

7.—To avoid discussions of politics or religions and to find common ground for agreement.

8.—To develop public speakers in the club who can later be of service abroad.

9.—To exchange speakers with kindred clubs throughout the Pacific Area.

10.—To co-operate with the Pan-Pacific Association in its annual observation of Pan-Pacific or Balboa Day, Sept. 17.

All who are interested in the work are invited to the luncheon meetings, especially those who are members of any of racial clubs.

There must be clubs in which the visitor within the gates takes an equal part with the Chinese in bringing about a better friendly understanding and real co-operation among all those who reside in China. The watchword and motto of the Club might be "Let us create a real patriotism of the Pacific—this great world of ours."

It will take true and good leaders to successfully organise the weekly inter-racial luncheon Clubs in Peking and in Shanghai. Mr. Fitch is practically on his way to America, I on my way to Australia, we will study and plan as we travel, meeting in Washington to compare plans and present them by post to the Pan-Pacific workers here and if they are adopted we will return to put our shoulders to the wheel and do our bit towards making them successful.

The chairman then announced that the gathering was especially fortunate in having with it Miss Ann Sattorthwaite, who has been associated with Mr. Ford in the Pan-Pacific work.

Mr. George A. Fitch, secretary of the association, announced that since he was leaving on furlough on June 23, he and the directors of the association had decided to ask Mr. Jabin Hsu, honorary secretary, to carry on with his work during his absence.

The chairman then proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Fitch for his services, which was endorsed with acclamation.

Among those present were Mr. Yang Tcheng, president of the association; Mr. S. Shimada and Mr. T. Horii, vice-consuls from Japan; Mr. P. P. Whitham, Mr. Wang Koh-shan, Harry Millard, Mr. C. Y. Sun, J. W. Ross, Mr. V. G. Lyman, Mr. H. B. Campbell, Dr. T. H. Lee, Dr. H. C. Mei, Prof. C. H. Robertson, Dr. J. H. Gray and Mr. W. E. Souter.

Victim And Accused Testify In Attempted Murder Case

went on, the amah in front and the accused behind. When we had gone a few yards away three men came out of a cornfield.

What road were you in? It was no road but in a path through the field. It was dark. I cannot say whether all three persons were men or women.

What happened then? The first time they rushed at me one by one and I pushed two of them back. The third person I know was a man. He struck me with a chopper.

Where was the accused then—was she still there? Yes.

And the amah still there? Yes, standing in front.

Did they try to help you? No.

You said the man struck you with a chopper? Yes, on the wrist.

TELLS OF ATTACK

What did he do then? Struck me on the right hand. Then I got hold of the chopper, and the other two men came up and held me by the hair of the head. Then the same man who had struck me with the chopper struck me a third time on the jaw.

Were you hit twice on the jaw with the chopper and once on the forehead? After I was struck on the jaw I was unconscious.

While this was going what were the women doing? Standing—one in front and one behind me.

They stayed there the whole time? Yes.

You fell down unconscious? Yes.

And subsequently were found in the morning and taken in an ambulance by a havildar? Yes.

Do you know the people who struck you? No.

Do you know the name of the amah? No.

CROSS EXAMINED

In cross-examination by Mr. Reece, witness said that he did make a statement in hospital that there was a Portuguese woman whose name he did not know, but when he got home he found her card and knew Mrs. Rowarth's name then. He had lent the accused $100.

Accused and the amah came to the house about 7.30. He could only say that three persons attacked him, and one of them was a man. They came up behind him and therefore he could not tell who they were.

Mr. Reece: You now withdraw the statement that you do not know who were the two others who assaulted you?

The Magistrate: He said this morning that he did not know.

Mr. Reece: I refer to the written statement.

The witness went on to say that he saw Mrs. Rowarth standing and watching. She was there all the time, but when he became unconscious he does not know. The fight lasted for five or six minutes. Mrs. Rowarth did not strike or do anything violent towards him, but after he got unconscious he does not know. The amah did not strike him. All the injuries were receiving from the three persons who came up from the cornfield.

CHOPPER IS SHOWN

Mr. Maitland put the following question to the complainant: Would you know the chopper? Yes.

A chopper was then produced in Court covered with black hair and matted with blood.

The chopper was recognised by the witness as that with which he was struck and the hair was his, he said.

Mr. Maitland: When the women called was there anybody in the house? Yes. One Indian named Hassan Ali.

Hassan Ali was then called and said that he was unemployed and lived at 810 Broadway.

Mr. Maitland: Do you know the last witness? Yes.

How long have you known him? Six or seven months.

You have been to his house? Yes, in Miller Road.

Do you remember the evening of May 4? Yes, I saw him in the evening in his house. It was about 7 o'clock.

Did anybody come to his house? A lady, Mrs. Rowarth, and one Chinese girl.

WOULD KNOW GIRL

If you saw the Chinese girl would you recognise her? Yes.

They had a conversation with Bakher Singh? Yes.

Did you hear what they said? The accused spoke to Bakher Singh and said that one woman to whom the money were loaned has changed her house and she, Mrs. Rowarth, knew the place. She offered to bring him there. At first he refused and then when she said "You ought to go with us" he put his clothes on and went with them.

Cross-examined by Mr. Reece the witness added that he knew nothing else about the case besides being present when the statement was written. He left the women and the complainant in Seward Road waiting for rickshas.

HAVILDAR CALLED

Havildar Baku Singh described how he found the complainant when he was on patrol duty on May 5. The Indian was lying in a field near Thorburn and Kwenming Roads, with a chopper at his side. The injured man was taken to the hospital.

Mr. Reece protested against the production of the chopper as it was not evidence against his client. The Police were looking for three Chinese who were wanted for attempted murder. He was prepared to prove that the accused was incorrectly charged, and the chopper was used, according to evidence, by Chinese. She was not a principal.

A note was made of the objection raised but the Magistrate thought that the chopper was a part of the evidence in the case.

The hearing was then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

ACCUSED TAKES BOX

Mrs. Judith Rowarth, 63 years, of C1386 Woosung Road, said she knew the complainant. She saw him on May 1, between 1 and 2 o'clock to pay him the interest on money she had borrowed from him. He was to be seen again on July 1 to pay him the capital, $10 and $8 interest. She was on good terms with her husband, and she saw him every day.

She could not recall May 4, as she did routine work at home the same every day, house work, cleaning dishes and the lamp. After the work was done she always went down to her daughter's place, in Kwantung Road.

That particular day she went there between 2 and 3, and took some sewing there and watched them play mah jongg. There were several people there, and she watched the game until before dinner, about 7.30 Mr. Marques, Miss Sequeira, Mr. and Mrs. Harris from Hongkong, were also present.

The husband got there between 5.30 and 6 o'clock, and had tea there. They had dinner there at 8.30, and afterwards all went to the show at the Isis Theater leaving the house at 9 o'clock.

She remained until the end of the show, and the husband and witness went home in rickshas. The other people went back to the other place. She had no knowledge of the charge brought against her.

The case was remanded until today after further testimony was called in corroboration of defendant's statements.

Shanghai College Commencement To Take Place Saturday

Trans-Siberian Mail Still Is Delayed

London mail No. 3 of May 12, sent over the Siberian route, arrived in Harbin on June 4 and letters reached Shanghai on June 9, the Postal Commissioner announces. Berlin mail No. 3 of May 19 reached Shanghai June 9.

Although the above mails have come through in good time, the Commissioner remarks, there are still delays on the Siberian route, mails reaching Shanghai from London in 29 to 38 days and Berlin 22 to 29 days.

Obituary

MRS. LUNA SOPHER

The death of Mrs. Luna Sopher, widow of the late Marcus Aaron Sopher, of Shanghai, occurred on June 9 at 11 a.m. while Mrs. Sopher was proceeding by the s.s. President Pierce to Hongkong to join there her daughters, Mrs. Edward Ezra and Miss Sopher.

Mrs. Sopher who was 54 years old, was born in Bombay. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. David, a well-known family of that city, and sister of Sir Sassoon J. David, Bart., of Bombay, and of Mr. Aubrey J. David, of London, who survive her. At the age of 20 she was married to the late Mr. M. A. Sopher, a well-known and respected citizen of Shanghai, one of the original members of the Shanghai Race Club and a member of the Shanghai Club, a partner in the firm of Messrs. S. J. David and Co.

During her stay in China she was greatly endeared to a wide circle of friends and her kind heart and charitable nature will be very sadly missed by the whole Jewish community. She was a loving wife and a devoted and revered mother. She leaves behind three daughters, two sons, and two grandsons. Her death which was quite unexpected, came as an overwhelming blow to her children and will be severely felt by her brothers, relatives, and friends.

The funeral will take place in Shanghai on arrival of the remains from Hongkong.

THE CHINA GENERAL OMNIBUS CO., LTD.

The above named Company is issuing a Prospectus inviting subscriptions for 47,500 ordinary shares of Tls. 10 each payable as to Tls. 5 on Application and as to Tls. 5 on Allotment. The Prospectus states, among other things, as follows:

"The object for which this Company is being formed is to establish and operate a service of Motor Omnibusses in Shanghai and the surrounding district for the purpose of providing the public with additional and comfortable means of transport. The Council have intimated to the Promoters that in the interests of the Ratepayers they view the proposed inauguration and operation of Motor Omnibusses with favor, as being a probable means of relieving the present congestion of traffic in the main streets of the Settlement, and that they are prepared to give every facility to the Company provided the Company continues to use very means in its power to give efficient service and comfortable transport to the public of Shanghai. The Council have sanctioned the operation of Motor Busses over ten routes but should it be found advisable in the interests of the public to vary such routes or to extend them, the assent of the Council is assured."

The Company proposes at the outset to purchase a fleet of 30 Motor Omnibusses, of the best and most modern type procurable. The Company's technical representative will at once visit England and America with this object and he will at the same time engage the services of an expert Traffic Superintendent and a Maintenance Superintendent so that the requirement of the Public may be served by officials of adequate and long experience in order to ensure that the operation of the proposed Service shall be as perfect as skilled experience can achieve.

"It is the Company's intention to provide the public with rapid, smooth, regular and comfortable transport at a moderate cost, and it will be the Company's aim to prevent overcrowding and to provide every passenger with a seat.

"The maximum fare permitted by the Council is ten cents per mile for 1st Class accommodation and five cents per mile for 2nd Class accommodation.

"The average length of one Route or single trip is 2.4 miles. The maximum average earnings permitted by the Council tariff are $4.90 per bus per trip. The Company anticipates that no first class fare on any route now authorised will exceed 20 cents or second class fare 10 cents. On this basis if running full time the average earning per Bus per trip will be $4.10.

"Very carefully considered estimates have been drawn up wherein provision has been made for the Busses to operate 12 hours per day carrying only 50 percent of the maximum seating accommodation; the maximum first class fare has been based on a charge of 5 cents per mile and the maximum second class fare on a charge of five cents per trip, the total average earning capacity of each Bus being taken at $1.18 per trip.

"The busy or rush periods when the Busses will be full have, for the purpose of this calculation, been entirely ignored.

"On a Capital of Tls. 500,000 the amount of the proposed first issue covering the purchase and operation of a fleet of 30 Motor Busses of the most modern design operating on four routes only, and after allowing for all running expenses, and for half the fixed or overhead charges, which have been estimated to cover 10 Routes the investment shows a profit of 1 1½ per cent per annum.

"Negotiations are in progress with the Council for permission to operate Motor Busses on Special Routes for Special Purposes and it is hoped in time to be able to serve the public in the evening by providing special Busses running from Residential Districts to the Theaters, Cinemas, etc.

"With the rapid development of the outlying districts of Shanghai the possibilities of the Company's future activities are almost unlimited. The Promoters are convinced that the Shanghai public will readily welcome the inauguration of this new means of transportation and it will be the Company's constant aim to cater for public requirements and to furnish such good service that demands for extensions of the service will be made within a very short period."

Copies of the full Prospectus and form of Application can be obtained at the office of Company, 6 Kiukiang Road or from the Company's Solicitors, White-Cooper, Master and Harris, 1 Museum Road or from Messrs. Benjamin & Pott, Brokers, 8 Jinkee Road.

This notice is not to be regarded as an invitation to the public to subscribe for shares and application will only be received on the footing of the full Prospectus and in the form issued therewith.

BIG STATES MAIL ARRIVES TODAY ON PRESIDENT BOAT

With 1,235 bags of mail and 1,600 tons of cargo as well as a big list of passengers for Shanghai, the President Jefferson will dock at the China Merchants Central Wharf about 11 o'clock this morning. The vessel comes from Seattle via Yokohama and Kobe, and is scheduled to sail for Hongkong and Manila at 9.30 a.m. Thursday.

Following the Jefferson, another big mail from America is expected this week. This comes by the Empress of Australia, which is due at Woosung on Sunday. The liner should arrive at Yokohama from Vancouver today.

Taking mail and passengers for America, the Empress of Russia will leave Woosung next Saturday, and is due to arrive in Vancouver via Japanese ports on July 2, and the Admiral Line steamer President Jackson is to sail for Seattle on Monday, June 18, and arriving there via Kobe and Yokohama on July 4.

The Kamo Maru is sailing for Marseilles, London and Antwerp via ports Saturday morning, and the tender with outgoing passengers will leave the Customs jetty at 9 o'clock. Ordinary mail may be posted up to 7 a.m. Saturday, and registered matter will close at 9 o'clock Friday night.

Bringing mail from Europe, the P. and O. liner Malwa which was expected to leave Singapore yesterday morning, will arrive in Shanghai via Hongkong on June 20. The M.M. steamer Porthos is due here from Marseilles two days later.

Local Connoisseur Will Auction Some Of His Collection

Mr. Strehlneek Offering Art Objects Thursday And Friday

Art-lovers here have been awaiting a promised sale of some of the treasures from the collection of Mr. Strehlneek, the well-known connoisseur of Shanghai and will be glad to know that an auction of some of the overflow from his stock will afford other collectors an opportunity to secure genuinely worth while articles. The sale will take place Thursday and Friday at 3:30 each day and the objects d'art may be viewed at any time, at Moore's Auction Rooms, 45 Kiangse Road.

The exhibition, which is equal to any art gallery, includes paintings ranging from the Sung to the Ching dynasty, ceramics from the times of the Tang Dynasty down to the Ching period and sculpture in bronze, stone and wood. There are also some exquisite embroideries and some fascinating bits of jade. As time goes on it is more and more difficult to find genuine antiques so when an artist of Mr. Strehlneek's knowledge and artistic perception is willing to part with some of his own purchases it is an opportunity to be taken advantage of.

Criminal Charge In Land Transaction

During the hearing in the Mixed Court yesterday of a civil action in which Y. Yamaguchi is suing Wong Tsien-bing for $32,700 and Tls. 76,182.45 alleged to have been obtained by fraud in a land transaction, it was announced that the complainant is taking criminal action in the matter, charging the obtaining of the money by false pretenses.

The defendant is alleged to have assumed responsibility for the turning over of certain land within a stated period and with failing to do so. Assessor Shimizu and Magistrate Lih agreed that the civil action should be postponed pending the hearing of the criminal charge and placed the accused under $40,000 security.

New Finance Head For Sun Government

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, June 11.—It is reported from Fukien that the guerilla leader, Huang Ping-fu, who was fighting against General Sun Chuan-fang, was taken on June 5 and shot. The other guerilla leaders have been defeated. Hence General Sun Chuan-fang will be able to resume his march to the coast.

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Canton, June 11.—Mr. Chau Lu, a member of the Kwangtung Parliament, assumed the post of Commissioner of Finance today, in succession to Mr. Yang Si-yan. Mr. Chau Lu's assumption of office indicates partial reconciliation with the Koumintang because many suspected that his previous refusal to serve meant disapproval of some part of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's policy.

Fighting has been resumed on the North and West Rivers. The situation is unsettled.

LINER TURNED BACK

London, June 11.—The White Star liner, Baltic, 24,000 tons, which left Queenstown yesterday for New York, struck submerged wreckage and is returning to Liverpool.

German Students Having Hard Time

Berlin, June 10.—College student in Germany have probably suffered more from the effects of the war than any other class. Instead of his pre-war existence of beer drinking and card playing, the student is now compelled to work his way through college.

Figures show that more than 8,000 of the 12,000 German students are compelled to earn their living. Of this total about 5,000 German work eight hours a day and attend school in their spare time.

Rubber Co.'s Are Doing Better

between themselves held 20,000 tons of rubber in stock. There is no doubt at all that very large quantities of which rubber came on the market and have proved the depressing factor in the price. It took the Malayan Governments quite a long time to awaken up to the fact that smuggling was rampant, but when they did wake up they did so with a vengeance. Very heavy fines, some of them of over $40,000, were inflicted, and, in addition, confiscation of stocks and confiscation of native craft connected with the smuggling trade.

It was not till about the middle of April that the authorities in the Malay Peninsula realised what has been going on, and they apprently gave the law-breakers such a scare that the export from Malaya for May dropped to 15,000 tons. Against the monthly allowance for May-June-July of 14,645 tons the figure for May shows a little excess. From June 1 a rigorous inspection of all native craft is being enforced, while a system of certificates of origin will be introduced from the first of next month. Fast motor vessels will patrol the coast, wide creeks and rivers, and generally the Government is taking every step to stop the rat-holes. The temporary reaction in the price of the commodity from the highest touched, namely 1s. 6d. per pound, to 1s. 1⅞d. per pound is the result of the excess quantity shipped from Malaya and the Dutch East Indies.

It is understood that restriction is being adopted in Java among 95 percent of the British-owned companies, and there is an increasing conviction that the Dutch-owned companies will shortly take a hand in playing the game. It must be confessed that many Dutch rubber plantations are tapping all out, for which they will probably be very sorry by and by, when they find no bark left.

The export of rubber from the Dutch East Indies up to the end of April was some 5,000 tons more than the same period of last year. With the gradual trend of public opinion in favor of restriction gaining ground in the Dutch East Indies and the Malay authorities putting the screw on the smugglers we should see less rubber going out and the probabilities are that the price will be considerably increased in the course of the next couple of months than it is today. Malaya is, no doubt, the crux of the matter.

The London price for May-June-July will have to average 1s. 3d. otherwise the recent relaxation of five percent will be taken off. During May the rate dropped well below 1s. 3d. per pound all the time. However, to attain the average a very much higher price than now prevailing will have to take place in June and July, or else the 60 percent basis will be reverted to. At present estates are permitted to export 65 percent of their output.

In this connection it might be added that on the computation of the "Statist" of London that for every penny that rubber remains below 1s. 6d. for three consecutive months the price in future quarters must go 2d. above 1s. 6d, and that would take place whether or not forward sales are made by producers now or hereafter. London stocks are dropping, and it would seem that if present indications are anything worth basing on the "Statist's" prognostications might come true. Rubber will certainly begin to look up again.

Time For Powers To 'Advise' China

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 10.—Responding to the toast, Asia, at the dinner of the Oxford University Asiatic Society, the Japanese Ambassador expressed the opinion that Russia was not entitled to control Siberia's great wealth herself but must open Siberia so that all might benefit.

Referring to the chaos in China, the Japanese Ambassador said that the ancient Chinese civilisation would survive if the other nations gave them time. He hoped that the Chinese would consolidate themselves. The Japanese Ambassador did not think that the Chinese could themselves restore order. The country at present was divided among thousands of bandit chiefs. It was really time the Powers seriously considered the matter and gave concerted advice to the Chinese with a view to restoring order leading to reunification of the Government and to developing the country, not only for the benefit of the world but for the benefit of the Chinese themselves.

Smith-Chadwick Bout At Boxing Stadium Friday Will Be Hum-Dinger

By Westa

Friday night, at the Boxing Stadium on Great Western Road, there will be staged what promises to be about the liveliest little knuckle party that ever pulled a yelp out of a ringsider's throat.

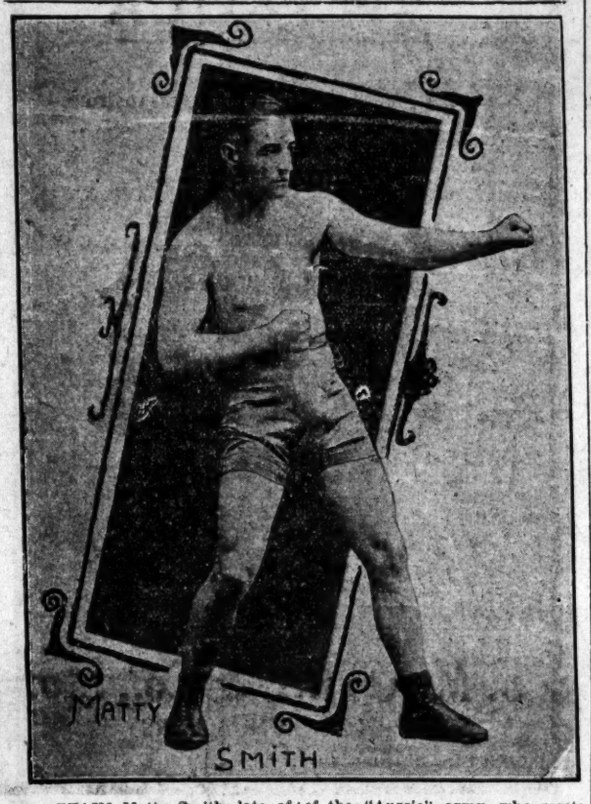
The principals in this battle will be Mattie Smith, an Australian lightweight who comes here with a great reputation, and Chadwick, who demonstrated at the last Stadium show that you do not necessarily have to have a big package to wrap up a valuable bundle of merchandise. Chadwick on that occasion gave in about five rounds they can start the war all over again and sign me on as a mule driver," countered Captain Smith.

Thus it will be seen that these two professors have confidence in themselves as insomnia specialists.

Both these lads will scale at around 133 pounds, so there will be no advantage in avoirdupois either way. Both are very shifty on their feet and each packs a punch that is about as healthy as a first class small pox epidemic.

Besides the Smith-Chadwick argument Friday there is to be a four round mill between Knute

He Fights Friday



CAPTAIN Matty Smith, late of the Australian overseas forces, and champion lightweight of the "Aussie" army, who meets Chadwick, lightweight champion of China, at the Stadium Friday.

Charlie White, himself no mean scrapper, a little matter of twenty pounds and then proceeded to wham him clear into the middle of next week, and the neatness and despatch with which he attended to that little job caused the boxing bugs to sit right up and take considerable notice.

The promoters, thus discovering that they had a human wildcat in their midst, immediately proceeded to match him with Capt. Smith, whose hobby during the late unpleasantness in Europe was licking all the fighters in the Allied ranks who continued to call for more after the Germans had finished their strafing. Capt. Smith blew into Shanghai some months ago and has been looking for a fist wielder of class ever since.

"I'll give him all the class he wants, at least for one evening," chirped the diminutive Mr. Chadwick.

"If I don't knock that bird for a row of Philadelphia coal sheds Hansen, the big Dane from Racine, Wisconsin, and Billy Oliverio, the local football star. Hansen has considerable of a reputation as a scrapper and has hands on him like a brace of Swift's premium hams. He is more than six feet high, and his chief boast is that his back has never touched canvas.

Young Mr. Oliverio will endeavor to give Mr. Hansen an introduction, or as they say in pugilistic circles, a knockdown to Mr. Paddy Canvas, who pinch hits for Mr. Tientsin Rugg at the Boxing Stadium.

Incidentally, that letter from one Bob Martin challenging Knute Hansen turns out to have been the bunk. There was a goof named Martin around these parts some months ago, but best information now is that he went to America long ago. The letter in Sunday's pink sheet evidently was written by some Johnny with a lot of literary ambition but no

SHANGHAI WINS AGAIN FROM THE MITSUBISHI NINE

Japanese Hold Kingmen's Men Except In One Inning

Sunday's baseball game between the Shanghai and Mitsubishi teams was a repetition of the previous engagements between these two aggregations, resulting in a win for Kingman's men. The score was 6 to 4. The Gallopers did their heavy damage in the third inning, in which frame the side batted around, winding up with five runs. This was an advantage that the Japanese could not overcome.

As for the Japanese they showed up well, especially Shibata, Nakashima, Okudaira and Sakurai. The Hong Team made two double plays during the course of the game, one occurring in the third frame when Bruce struck while Thatch was on third. The catcher dropped the third strike but threw Bruce out on first. The baseman then returned the throw to the catcher who tagged Thatch at the plate.

The other play was in the eighth, when Posnocki was on second. Taylor clouted out a beautiful hit to center field which looked so safe that Posnocki took third, but the star center fielder pulled it down and threw Posnocki out at second. It has been said that this was the prettiest catch this season. The Japanese went out in one-two-three order their last time up which finished the game.

The next games will be next Saturday and Sunday when the Osaka Mainichi team will be here for two series of three games eac The score.

60 Dozen Golf Balls Knocked Into Sea

London, May 8.—The American golf professionals Hagen, Sarazen and Hoffner and the Australian, Kirkwood, have arrived in London from New York. During the voyage on the Aquitania they drove 60 dozen balls into the sea as practice. Hagen stated that he was not bringing much in the way of new clubs. He had a new aluminium spoon shaped putter with a black dot on the stop to guide the player when hitting the ball, but he did not intend to use it in matches so long as his form remained consistent. Trere were no new freak clubs in America, where they had too much respect of the authority of the Royal and Ancient Club to use them. He anticipated a stiff fight to retain the Open Championship.

very great regard for facts. Hansen isn't dodging anybody, let along Soldier Martin. Let them come out to the Stadium in person with their challenges and Knute will guarantee to give them all the action they want.

"The bird that wrote that letter," said Knute, "is one of these alphabet fighters. All he ever fights is the keyboard on a typewriter."

That ought to detain our belligerent correspondent for a considerable period.

Among the distinguished visitors in this man's town at the present writing is the Hon. Terry Vargas, whose home address is Manila, Philippine Islands. Mr Vargas is not much bigger than a minute, seeing that he is in the bantam class, but what he lacks in quantity he makes up in quality. There are many men acquainted with the facts in the case who will tell you that Terry is a better chin buster than Pancho Villa, the Manila boy who went over to America last winter and kicked up considerable dust.

Terry is up here "looking around," and if anybody has anything in the line of challenge that he wishes to broadcast be it known by all and sundry that he is sitting at the old listening post with a receiving set clamped over both ears.

Another bantam in our midst just now is "Cyclone" Santos, also from down Manila way. "Cyclone" is also looking for action, and is so keen for it that he will give away ten pounds to any scrapper that wishes to sample the goods he offers for sale.

A good list of preliminaries has been arranged for Friday, and as there has been a big advance demand for tickets it wouldn't be a bad idea to get there early if you want to see the fists foxtrot.

Dry Enforcer Is "Fairly Satisfied"

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 10.—Mr Haynes, the Prohibition Commissioner, in his annual report, expresses "a fair degree of satisfaction" at the liquor prohibition enforcement in the United States generally.

He hopes that increased co-operation of local authorities will leave Federal officers free to deal with the larger conspiracies. The report adds that adverse sentiment is principally confined to the Eastern seaboard, although there are certain cities where local conditions make the problem difficult.

yards away. Why are you going to be frightened, Mrs. Davis is waiting for you there. She came there at 4 o'clock." Then we are now engaged in the mills to take care of the machinery, and this is a very wise precedure, and I am sure the machine makers who desire to retain a good reputation in this country for their machinery will appreciate your efforts in this direction.

CROP IMPROVEMENT

"Notwithstanding the fact that the spindles in China have been doubled during the last four years nothing now appears to be done to increase or improve the Chinese cotton crop, even the efforts we were making in this direction have been given up.

"It is a vital matter, China should do something to bring about better cultivation, and there is no exaggeration in saying that by the right selection of plants and seeds, in a few years a much greater production, and of a better quality could be obtained from the present acreage.

"This is a national question, and should be taken up seriously by the Government. With the world's short supplies it is China's duty, being a cotton growing country to increase the crop as much as possible. Cheaper cotton means greater trade, one of the chief reasons for the reduced demand, and the losses you are making today in the mills is due to dear cotton. Coal which was Taels six per ton in 1919, is now Taels ten, and inferior in quality. This is a large item in the working costs of a mill in the Kiangsu Province.

"I found the mills in Shansi and Honan were able to purchase a much superior coal at Taels three per ton. Why cannot something be done to obtain supplies from those districts? This shows clearly where railways might be advantageously constructed, and also to cheapen

LOCAL MILLS HANDICAPPED

"As regards the present and future propects of the cotton trade, I should say the mills in Chihli, Hupeh, Shantung, Honan and Shansi have a better chance of profitable trading under present conditions than the mills in this province. They have greater opportunities of purchasing cheaper cotton, their labor force is less expensive, and coal is much cheaper, and in addition to the production costs being less, transit charges for marketing their yarns and cloth are much lower than those of the Shanghai mills.

"When we take into consideration that there are three-quarters of a million new spindles in those provinces as compared with 4 years ago, supplying the demand hitherto filled by the Shanghai mills, it means the latter will have to find fresh markets, and for yarn this does not appear very hopeful, with cotton prices remaining as they are. In studying the whole situation, I have come to the conclusion that probably one-half of the cotton required for the mills will have to be imported, consequently it will be far the best policy to purchase the better grades of India and American cotton for manufacturing.

BIG TEXTILE FIELD

"There is an unlimited field as regards textiles. Every concern in this province should take up weaving, you are not restricted to greys, there is now close at hand the China Dyeing and Bleaching Company, where you can obtain practically any finish you require, and no doubt competitors in these branches will make their appearance in the near future.

"The position here today is similar to that of the mill industry of India some ten years or more ago. As the yarn trade with China diminished, many of the mills started cloth manufacturing and became very successful. Those concerns who doggedly kept to the yarn trade got into financial difficulties.

"There is another branch of the cotton industry which has not received the consideration it deserves, and that is waste manufacturing. If you could only see a small portion of the beautiful textiles produced today with the aid of bleaching and dyeing from cotton wastes you would be amazed.

"With cotton at its present high price, and the absurd prices offered for your wastes, it would pay you all to go seriously into this matter, even if you have to export your manufactured products.

"One connot help being pessimistic at times about China, and the political chaos, but there is one outstanding redeeming feature, wherever you go the man who is producing wealth is hard at work tilling the soil, and to see the thousands of miles of wheat and other crops, means that some of the money realised for them will go to purchase the productions from your spindles and looms, in spite of any government."

Chinese Ratepayers Hold Annual Meeting; Directors Review Many Big Issues

The Chinese Ratepayers Association held its annual meeting at the Shanghai Chinese General Chamber of Commerce building Sunday morning and its annual election the same afternoon. Mr. Fang Chiao-pah, Vice-Chairman of the Shanghai Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Following an announcement by the Chairman, Mr. Chu Keng-shih, Chief Secretary to the Association, read a report in which he reviewed the work done and the difficulties encountered by the Association during the past year.

Mr. Chu deplored the fact that although the Chinese ratepayers paid their annual dues to the Municipal Council, they were denied the right of representation at the Council and so had no voice therein. In spite of the fact that in 1921, the Chinese Advisory Board was formed, Mr. Chu said, its members were not considered as the formal representatives of the Chinese ratepayers on the Council.

Mr. Chu next touched upon the question with regard to the proposed reform of the International Mixed Court. The ambit of authority of the International Mixed Court, Mr. Chu pointed out, was clearly defined in the Yangkingpang land regulations. It was not until 1911, when the Revolution broke out at Wuchang followed by the disappearance of Senior Magistrate Pao Yi, a Manchu, that the Consular Body, taking advantage of the fact that China had not been recognised by the Powers, "Seized the Court as its own." Since then, he said, the Mixed Court had become so powerful and absolute in its decisions that no litigants could appeal. Even pure Chinese cases had to be adjudged by the Consular Body. Cases had been innumerable, he continued, where Treaty stipulations were deliberately violated and China's sovereignty was encroached upon.

The question concerning the proposed reform of the Mixed Court, he said, should not be confused with that regarding the proposed abolition of extraterritoriality. They were entirely separate issues.

Mr. Chu then referred to the increase of license rates in respect of the different trades, which, he stated, inflicted heavy burdens on the merchants.

The last thing which Mr. Chu called attention to was the alleged encroachment by the Municipal Council on the section of the Soochow Creek near the Szechuen Road Bridge. The Council, he said, was erecting an enbankment on the Southern Bund of the Creek, thereby narrowing the point at which the Creek empties itself into the Whangpoo River to the detriment of the rice fields in the up-country districts. Representations would be made to the Council in this connection.

Mr. Jabin Hsu next addressed the ratepayers on behalf of the Chinese Advisory Committee. Apart from the cases as set forth in the annual report of the Board, Mr. Hsu said that four important things had been taken up with the Municipal Council, namely, the suppression of smuggling and hoarding of rice, educational facilities for Chinese girls, ban on import of light-weight copper coins, and the admission of Chinese into the public parks.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the question brought up by Mr. Yu Shi-chi with regard to the statement made by Mr. Y. S. Ziar, chairman of the committee, in which Mr. Ziar declared that sing-song girls did not come within the category of prostitutes. Mr. Yu said that the sing-song girls were prostitutes and took exception to Mr. Ziar's alleged defence of them. He emphasised that the Chinese Advisory committee should hereafter be more prudent in its utterance.

In reply to Mr. Yui, Mr. Hsu said that Mr. Ziar wrote in response to a letter addressed to the committee by Mr. S. J. Calder of the Kailan Mining Administration who wished to procure the view of the advisory committee on the sing-song girl question. Before Mr. Ziar wrote the letter, which appeared in THE CHINA PRESS he wrote to Mr. N. O. Liddell, then secretary and general commissioner of the council and to Mr. A. D. Blackburn, then British and Senior Assessor of the Mixed Court. Both held that sing-song girls were not prostitutes in their letters to Mr. Ziar, who, as a result, wrote to the press to reiterate the statements made by both Mr. Liddell and Mr. Blackburn.

Mr. Yui being satisfied with the reply, the meeting adjourned.

Balloting for the nine directors of the association began at noon on Sunday and continued throughout yesterday morning. Counting was commenced yesterday afternoon.

The nine new directors elected yesterday for a term of three years are Mr. Kan Chiu-nam, Mr. Hsu Chien-ling, Mr. Chu Keng-shih, Dr. David Z. T. Yui, Mr. Yuen Wu-chu, Mr. C. C. Nieh, Mr. P. T. Ziar, Mr. Woo Yuin-tsai and Mr. Lee Cheng-san.

Moutrie Opens Fine New Store

An event of great importance to Shanghai's music devotees was the opening yesterday of the new Moutrie establishment at No. 37 Nanking Road, a few doors west of Kiangse Road.

The new home of what the proprietors of this fine new establishment refer to as "music headquarters" is about everything that a fine, modern music store should be.

The store has a fine frontage on the city's main thoroughfare with magnificent show windows covered along the entire front by a wide glass canopy that protects patrons and passers-by without in any way detracting from the light supply.

The first things that attract the eye of the visitor once he is inside the store are the immense racks for records and music. The records rack extends almost the entire length of one side of the store and contains approximately 50,000 records. In this assortment there is about everything in the line of phonographic records that could be desired. The racks are so arranged that all the records lie perfectly flat, best possible insurance against warping. The records stock alone is worth $100,000.

On the ground floor also are pianos and musical instruments of all kinds, and six sound proof specially constructed audition rooms in which patrons may have records played before purchase, or the tonal quality of machine tested.

On one side of the room is a commodious booth for the sale of theater and other tickets. Moutrie's has come to be headquarters for theater bookings, as well as for other entertainments given in Shanghai, and in the new store tickets may be purchased with the minimum of trouble.

On the first floor there is a large store room for reserve stocks of all kinds, the room being large and airy, and on the top floor are the company offices, this also being a very large, airy, well lighted room. The manager's office is located here, the assistant manager's office being on the ground floor.

The upper floors are reached both by a stairway and by a specially constructed elevator.

Besides these spaces there are fine quarters for the compradore and his staff in adjoining offices.

The new Moutrie store is the finest in the chain, the company having establishments in Hongkong, Singapore, Tientsin, Peking and Kuala Lumpur, the Shanghai store being the head office of the company.

The Moutrie management extends a cordial welcome to all to visit the new place, of which they may well be proud. It is one of the best designed and most completely stocked establishments that one could wish to see, and compares very favorably with the better stores at home.

American Indians Topic Of Lecture For This Evening

A lecture which should prove of unusual interest is that to be given at 9.15 o'clock this evening in the Royal Asiatic Society's hall by Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald.

The lecturer will speak under the auspices of the local Theosophical Society and her topic will be "Myths, Dances and Ceremonies of the Blackfeet Indians"—a tribe on whose customs she is an authority. The admission charge is $1, children half-price.

NOTIFICATION No. 335.

In connection with the bandit outrage caused to our Express Train between stations Lincheng and Shakou on 6th May last debris of sundry articles which were brought by passengers but left behind in the cars or on the track were picked together by the Railway staff, loaded in cars and conveyed to Tientsin. After allotting the things with numbers they were placed under the care of officers who have been appointed to keep safe custody of the same. Up to the present many of the articles have been identified at the Administration by their owners. In addition to having posted lists of particulars at all our stations showing the various articles that have and have not been recognized whereby giving the names of persons and dates on which they called for the things, we hereby advertise in papers to invite identification of the remaining articles. For any information in this respect please approach our Traffic Department or Stations along the Railway line.

Business and Official Notices

In the International Mixed Court of Shanghai.

Chinese Civil Case No. P. 12127

Re: THE NATIONAL COMMERCIAL TOBACCO CO., LTD. (in liquidation)
(興業烟草公司清理案)

Tenders are invited for the purchase of the following assets of the above Company:—

1. Godown (one storeyed, brick built, tiled roof) situated at No. 473 Kung Hsin Road, Chapei district.
2. Lease of factory (brick built, iron roof, partly two and partly three storeyed) situated at Jiuklang Road, Chapei district.
3. Machinery in Factory.
4. Furniture and Fittings in Factory.
5. Stock of Cigarettes, Boxes, Packets, Wrappers, Paper, etc. in Godown and Factory.

The godown is the property of the company, and they hold a 30 year lease of the land on which it is built, 2 years of which lease have expired.

The factory is not owned by the company, but they hold a lease which expires at the end of the 4th moon of the 15th year of the Republic of China. The landlord is prepared to sell the factory buildings and land either immediately or at the expiration of the lease.

The machinery consists of Tobacco Cutting and Rolling Machines of American, Chinese, and Japanese makes, Electric Motor, Steam Engine, Shafting and Belting, Pumps of English, American and German makes, Fans, Paper Cutting Machines, Moistening Machines, etc.

Tenders, which should be sent to the undersigned on or before 30th June, 1923, may be made for the business as a going concern including all of the above mentioned assets, or for part of the assets.

Before making tenders the premises, etc. may be inspected by intending bidders on application to the undersigned, when full particulars will be given.

Bidders must be prepared to take possession and pay 25% of the price immediately, if their tenders are accepted. The date of payment of the balance will be fixed later.

French Aviators To Abandon World Trip

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 9.—The French Air Mission, which was to fly round the world, will shortly be ordered to abandon the attempt in consequence of numerous mishaps.

After much delay in starting Lieutenant Picard and Lieutenant Madon traversed Italy, crossing to Tunis, when Lieutenant Picard was obliged to land on the rocky island of Pantellaria.

His machine burst into flames and his clothes caught fire. He rushed into the sea, was rescued by the inhabitants, but was seriously injured.

Lieutenant Madon has also landed on the island of Pantellaria but his machine rests on the top of the mountain.

The third aviator is ill at Palermo and only one pilot remains, whose machine is undamaged.

British Liner To Be Dry On Return Trip

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 10.—The last "wet" liner, the Mauretania, has departed for America. The Company has supplied the passengers of the Majestic, which is going out on Wednesday, with forms in which they are asked to estimate and also to pay for the liquor they are likely to want on the voyage. Any not consumed when the dry line is reached will be heaved overboard.

MOTHERS, THIS IS A SERIOUS TROUBLE

Neglected It May Be Fatal

Anywhere, but especially in the Far East, diarrhoea in infants and young children is a dangerous ailment, and one which should not be neglected. If you find that your child has diarrhoea, never give medicine to check the movement of the bowels except upon the advice of a physician. Feed the little one sparingly, give barley water, to quench the thirst, cleanse the bowels of the irritating secretions, which are the cause of the trouble, by giving Baby's Own Tablets according to directions.

"My baby was troubled with diarrhoea and was very restless and cross; she got very little sleep and I hardly knew what to do with her. I got a vial of Baby's Own Tablets, and after using them she could sleep well and her bowels became regular. I am very pleased with the Tablets and think them a fine medicine," writes Mrs. Geo. Foote, St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada.

Of medicine vendors, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from Dr Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

If London Breaks With Moscow

LONDON reports that the Foreign Office has sent to Moscow a note couched in such terms that only a break with the Soviet Government seems possible. British relations with Moscow are such that a break would mean only the recall of the British Trade Mission to Moscow and the removal of the Soviet Trade Mission from London. Despite the names of these missions, the move would be purely political in effect.

For a long time the Soviet Government, deprived of any direct and regular dipomatic representation in London, has sought to clothe its Trade Mission there under the nominal leadership of the able Krassin with actual diplomatic character. To this end it organised "Arcos, Ltd.," a corporation under British law for the promotion of trade with Russia. Actual business dealings between British concerns and Russia long have been deflected from the Soviet mission to the offices of this corporation. The total operations thus carried on are estimated to amount to a half billion dollars gold. Whether or not Krassin is sent away from London and Mr. Hodgson and his mission recalled from Moscow will make little difference to this trade, according to those in close touch with its processes.

It is carried on under the greatest difficulty and in the most limited fashion as it is. Mr Hodgson's task in Moscow has long been that of a mere observer and deliverer of official intergovernmental communications. Krassin has been lately in London, delegating the trifling work of passport granting and authentication of trade documents to subordinates. Neither of these functions if elimination would cripple what trade there is between Russia and Great Britain.

But the withdrawal of these missions would be a serious blow to Soviet pride. Except for formal diplomatic relations with Berlin, this is Russia's only connecting link with western Europe. It has been consistently the British policy to do everything possible to get into contact with the Russian people through trade and industry while doing nothing to strengthen the hands of the present Russian Government.

The chimera of a thriving trade with Russia has long deluded the British workman. He is beginning to see its futility. Leslie Urquhart, better informed than the average British workman, as he speaks every Russian dialect and has a stake of many millions of pounds in the country, has practically abandoned hope of being able to do business on behalf of the Russo-Asiatic Corporation with the sort of person now running affairs at the Kremlin. It has taken a long time for British opinion to swing around to the point where it would back a break. News that the Government has dispatched a note seems to indicate that it has reached that point.

Correspondence

TO ABOLISH BANDITRY

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Dear Sir:—Mr. Hugh Kalyptus may be taken as an authority on the Remedy for Outlaws in China, although the remedy he suggested may be considered incomplete. The action signified by him in his letter of the 2nd instant appears to be based on some authoritative information indicating that movements of certain troops to the troubled zone in China in the immediate future is the unavoidable measure to be adopted by the foreign Powers.

While concurring in the views aforesaid, I feel inclined to point out that employment of foreign troops as an anti-outlaw measure cannot be adequate in view of the fact that the lawless people are derivatives of the Chinese army, whose officers generally consist of undesirable characters, including heads of brigand bands. The measure, it is understood, is not meant for freeing the captives at Lincheng alone, but for preventing possible repetition of similar occurences elsewhere in China in future.

China is a vast country with scattered wildernesses in which outlaws are harbored. It is, indeed, impossible for China, herself, to keep an effective check upon the doings of the outlaws; neither would it be possible for the foreign Powers to shoulder off the responsibility of the Chinese Government merely by the employment of foreign troops. The suppression of outlaws by application of a direct measure against the outlaws, or against the officials, who are responsible for such outlaws, such as that signified by Mr. Kalyptus, cannot, therefore, be effective and eradicative, if it were applied without the combination of a drastic remedy for dealing with the casual agent of the outlaw and the origin of the evil.

The remedy should include rigorous and capital punishment and also forcible bundling-off of some notorious chieftains of the Chinese army and navy, who recruit men for aggressive purposes and who enrich themselves by dismissing their men without giving arrears of the men's pay with which to get home. Not long ago, Tuchun Wong of Hupeh packed a brigade of his men into a train and, thereafter, killed them wholesale with machine guns outside the city limit as the result of a dispute concerning arrears of pay.

Chang Ching-yao sent off his men by awarding them with army equipments without paying what is due to them. Admiral Tu Shih-kwei, as Commander-in-Chief of the Republican Navy shot an officer of a torpedo boat at Nanking without lawful trial. War against the several non-aggressive and peaceful Provinces without reasonable or justifiable cause, thereby reducing the country to starvation and forcing the people into lawlessness may be taken as the causal agent and the origin of evil above referred to.

China is known to the world as the oldest civilised nation; her people are non-aggressive and are peace lovers. Blame for the present lawlessness must go to her leaders, who are incapable of carrying out the functions of the republican rule, with the result that the militarists are, today, the predominating factor that creates this menace to mankind. Mr. J. O. P. Bland thinks the Chinese officials can be made to perform the right deeds, if intervention of a threatening nature from foreign sources is introduced. His observation is correct when based on the past, but it may not be correct today, when cabinets can retire or dissolve at will, officials of administrative responsibility can free themselves without leave, cities and villages of historic value can be levelled and burned by military mad men, men put to death without lawful trial, militarists extort money from people in the invaded country, soldiers made to live on the proceeds realised from looting and robbery, President of the Nation reduced to a mere talking machine.

Facts cannot be denied; deeds performed by the militarists are equal to, if not worse than the horrible deeds committed by the brigands and bandits. I, therefore, strongly advocate that any measure that may be taken for protecting the welfare of the country and interest of the foreigners should include a remedy for effectively eradicating the root of evils as above explained.

Thanking you for inserting this letter in the columns of your valuable paper. Yours Respectfully,

M. Simpson.

My Old Home Town

By Damon Runyon

It is maybe a matter of forty years ago that there comes to my old home town out west a guy by the name of William Whitticomb

He is a tall, skinny guy, with a slow, draggy way of talking, and not much, for looks anyway you take him. Where he comes from nobody knows, but some people say it is Georgia, and other people say it is Minnesota.

Anyway, this Whitticomb builds himself a little shack up among the cottonwood trees, where the Arkansaw River bends in from the west, and settles down all by his lonesome to doing nothing but fishing in the Summer and hunting in the Winter.

How he makes a living nobody knows, but nobody ever hears of him asking anybody for anything, so the chances are he has a little dough around him when he first arrives. He never tells anybody much of anything about himself and, in fact, he is such a great hand for minding his own business that everybody finally comes to the conclusion that he is a little crazy.

Well, after twenty-five or thirty years he is just Crazy Bill to one and all back in my old home town, and very few people can remember his real name. Nobody pays any attention to him, although once in awhile some of us young squirts on our way to the swimming hole in the Arkansaw near Crazy Bill stop by his house long enough to heave a few rocks at the windows.

But it is not nearly as much fun as heaving rocks at Chinamen such as Wing Toy who runs the laundry, because Wing Toy will hop out of his joint boiling mad and chase you nine blocks, while old Crazy Bill never pays no attention to anything.

Every day in the Summer you can see him sitting on the river bank fishing for chubs and catfish, and every day in the Winter you can see him prowling around the prairies with his shotgun looking for rabbits or whatever else may come along.

He is a pretty old man by the time I am old enough to know anything much, because he is no springer when he hits my old home town, and one day when Fall is coming on and the leaves on the cottonwoods are getting brown, what happens but Crazy Bill curls up in his little shack and dies.

Well, nobody thinks much about this proposition, because somebody or other is always dying back in my old home town, although Mr. Fewgate, the coroner, is pretty sore when he comes to frisk Crazy Bill's joint, looking for enough dough to bury Bill on, and finds nothing whatever.

This puts it up to the county to bury Crazy Bill, and Mr. Fewgate says taxes are high enough as it is.

Anyway, they put Bill in a pine box, as inexpensive as possible, and away they go with him to the piece of ground next door to the big cemetery where they bury all guys who have no dough when they die, of which there are many such back in my old home town.

There is nobody to attend the funeral except the guy who digs the graves, a fellow by the mane of Spencer, who is called Bones Spencer for short, and Bob Barr, the hack driver who also drives the hearse for the Star Livery Barn when the county is burying somebody.

This Bob Barr is pretty well stewed the day they lay Crazy Bill to rest, what with having a big wine party out to Spesilier's roadhouse in his hack the night before, and he takes a bottle of liquor with him to the funeral. Bob and Bones Spencer sit down on the side of Crazy Bill's grave and drink this liquor, so they are probably mixed up in what happens afterward, but this is what they claim:

They claim that who comes along but my Grandpap, driving a rig from the Star Barn, and that he hitches horse to a tree and comes over to the grave of Crazy Bill, takes off his hat and starts in letting out a regular sermon, like a preacher burying a millionaire.

Well, Bob Barr and Bones Spencer let their bottle of this liquor rest for a minute and get up and stand with their hats off while my Grandpap is talking, and Bones Spencer, who is not so stewed as Bob Barr, claims that what my Grandpap says is like this:

"I am here," he says, "to pay my last repects and shed a tear over all that is mortal of the man this town calls Crazy Bill.

"This man," my Grandpap says, as near as Bones remembers, "spends all his life doing the things he likes to do. In over forty years, to my positive knowledge he never does a stroke of work.

"He holds himself aloof from the caterwauling of the community. He never says an evil word of anybody else, and nobody knows anything to say of him except that he is crazy. He lives by himself and escapes domestic discord. He has no worries from debt and as far as anybody knows he is never ill.

"He does as he pleases all the days of his life in this community. He fishes and hunts, and finds simple pleasure in these pursuits, while other men of the community are struggling with one another in business, backbiting one another in business, cutting each other's throats in social intercourse. And they call this man Crazy Bill!"

"I am here," my Grandpap says, "to shed a tear over all that is mortal of the only man I ever know, or that ever lives in this cussed town, who is entirely sane!"

And, furthermore, Bones Spencer and Bob Barr always claims my Grandpap sheds this tear he is talking about, sure enough and on the level.

Argument Is Heard In Publishing Firm Case

There was considerable argument yesterday afternoon in the United States Court before Judge Lobingier when the suit of Harold Russell against the L. C. Publishing Company was again called up. Mr. F. J. Schuhl represented the defendants and Mr. S. Moss the plaintiff.

At the outset the Judge remarked that it would be best to have a transcript of the evidence made in the case before he gave judgment. Giving his impression of the case briefly, the Judge said to Mr. Moss:

"You are proceeding on the assumption that the resolution constituted a contract. The testimony was that the minutes embodying the resolution were of a contrary nature. If so when the matter of employment came to be considered that there was a conversation to the effect that the salary was to be paid in case of the corporation making profit. It is so much a question of facts that a transcript of the evidence would be necessary. That is the first thing to consider."

Mr. Moss: My client has been without work for eight months and has no money at all. We cannot offer to give anything for the transcript.

The Judge: We must have some of the evidence at least transcribed. I am afraid if you are going to argue on the facts you will run into differences regarding the testimony.

HOLDS IS CONTRACT

Mr. Moss: The resolution is a written contract for employment, that this contract was accepted, and that they permitted the plaintiff to draw against the corporation, and they let him do this for six months before they checked him. For six months they knew that he was charging against his account. Why did they then permit him to do so? Another thing is this. The resolution reads as follows: "Resolved that the vice-president be and is hereby appointed at a salary of Tls. 600, and that the same salary shall be paid to the president." That is definite action and is sufficient and different from the later resolution. It has "shall be," and there is nothing indefinite nor has there been any oral understanding. Further, it cannot be varied by oral testimony later on. It must be presumed that all the terms of the contract are in this written resolution, and it cannot be changed by oral testimony. There are only two States in the United States holding to the contrary, one of which is California. Practically all the other States hold just this way. We are not responsible for this change which was entered into the minutes of April 3. It was not a written proviso, and we are not responsible. It is Mr. Schoenfeld's mistake. If he made this mistake you cannot charge the error to the plaintiff in this case. Mr. Griffin testified that he and Mr. Russell had a partenership agreement prior to the time when the L. C. Publishing Company was incorporated.

Mr. Moss continued to argue on the Statute of Fraud which made the alteration in the minutes a punishable offence.

His Honor: If there was a contract and the written resolution that would be no fraud.

SHOULD HAVE ALTERED

Mr. Moss: If this resolution was adopted. Mr. Schoenfeld says that he did not change the resolution as it was a case of friends. It makes no difference to him as he is secretary and counsel of the corporation. Even if it were agreed that the resolution was wrong it was his duty to alter it. He says it is so much trouble and leaves it at that. He signs it as secretary and passes it to Mr. Griffin, who says this is not the right thing, and says "Well we shall sign it." Sometime later when they have another meeting and in the absence of proof the minutes are read and they repudiate this action. They come now and say that they made a mistake. We are thought to be skeptical. We have been taught to put into writing things that are in our mind. It seems to make no difference to Mr. Schoenfeld that they are minutes of a meeting, and no question of friendship. Would they permit a man to draw and draw if it was a mistake? Mr. Schuhl talks about embezzlement, and if he was serious it would have been filed long ago. It seems to me that the resolution must stand as it is signed by the director and the secretary. These are clever men and men of experience. They certainly should have known better. Mr. Griffin has been a newspaper man and he should know better. That cannot excuse him and put the burden on my client. I submit this resolution is a written contract and it was accepted the same day that the plaintiff went to work.

MR. SCHUHL REPLIES

Mr. Schuhl: I will simply read the references that I have here. We agree to the actual facts as presented in this court. The Court recalls the evidence in which we charged Russell with embezzling certain funds and they have never rebutted that. We allege he had taken certain funds and never refunded them, and he never denied this. With reference to what Mr. Moss said about Mr. Schoenfeld we also showed that on April 3 in my presence, and that of Mr. Schoenfeld, Mr. Moss, and Mr. Griffin that, Russell admitted before all of us that the contract was as we alleged, and he now comes here to claim Tls. 600 per month. With regard to our counter-claim we introduced evidence to show that Russell stole and embezzled $742.

Mr. Moss: Pretty rough words.

Mr. Schuhl: That he used $195 for personal accounts and besides as well $168. We also showed in Court that a woman in Peking sent a money order for the sum of $37. He passed that money into his books and made no entry in the books. He goes out and buys what the woman wants and charges the office for this. How much more money he has taken we cannot tell until the complaints come in. He took a cheque for Tls. 60 for advertising and got it mixed up with an estate He took this cheque which was payable to the defendant company and deposited it to the credit of the estate and when it was found out after a month he returned after a month. If this is not embezzlement then what is it? If Mr. Moss talks about taking out criminal proceedings, I am prepared to swear a warrant before the District Attorney today.

The Judge: It is not a question of embezzlement. The question is one of salary for Tls. 600 per month. The first question of fact is that there was a contract. Whether it was Tls. 600 straight or Tls. 600 on certain conditions. The second question of fact is the amount taken. I do not see how I am, going to settle these facts without transcribed evidence. I think I shall have to have some of the evidence transcribed. You have to consider the whole evidence. These are points involving certain questions of law.

Mr. Schuhl said he was prepared to pay half the cost of having the evidence transcribed, but Mr. Moss submitted that his client was too poor to pay anything, having been without funds and work for eight months.

Mr. Schuhl: He drew $1,800.

The question of transcription of the testimony was left over to be discussed among the parties.

Judgment was reserved.

If You Sow Hard Work You Will Reap Leisure In Old Age

BY J. J. MUNDY

You may have worked along through life without assuming any great responsibilities—without pinning yourself down to a steady grind in which every moment of your waking hours is devoted to a study of the work in which you are engaged.

Hard, after a fashion, you have your plans for pleasure, if you could avoid it.

You have passed along in a way which provided you and your family with the necessities and many of the luxuries of life, but for your years and of your work you have little to show.

Have you any right to expect your life to be otherwise?

You have not made the real earnest effort required to place a solid financial foundation under you so that you could slacken your efforts at the present time.

Do you think it sensible to suppose that you might get along in an easy, comfortable manner all your life and still acquire much in the way of this world's goods?

Men and women reap what they sow.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

China's Envoy Staves Off Opium Inquiry

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 10.—Mr. Chu Chao-hsin, interviewed by Reuter's Agency in London, pointed out that the meeting of the Opium Committee of the League of Nations at Geneva was open to the public for the first time. He said that publicity of the opium question would arouse public opinion in China against the drug evil.

The Chinese Government's contradiction of the report that legalisation of opium traffic might be introduced in China had removed all misconception of this point.

The Committee had also accepted China's assurance that she would do her utmost to investigate poppy cultivation in some provinces, and, therefore, the Committee had not pressed the scheme of consular representation in the investigation as it did at the last two sessions.

Little Entente Is Trying For Peace

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, June 9.—The Serbian Minister of Foreign Affairs made a statement on foreign policy in the Skupstina today. He declared that the Little Entente was making itself an element of peace in Central Europe. The interests of Poland were identical and it was impossible to speak of the Little Entente without mentioning Poland.

Referring to relations with Italy, the Minister insisted on the fact that the two countries had reciprocal interests, which required friendly relations. The principal question on this point was the conclusion of a commercial treaty.

The principal points in the question of the Albanian frontiers had been decided. At the conclusion of his speech, the Minister declared the gratitude of the nation to France for the aid it has received in all circumstances during the war.

He denied the report that the visit of General Le Rond was connected with a military agreement, saying:

"Our nation does not know a France preoccupied in preparing for new wars."

TO CUT DUTIES

Rome, June 9.—In order to diminish the high cost of living the Cabinet has decided to abolish or substantially reduce the customs duties on the most important articles of food
